With us – a Classic and Gorgeous Journey
China Travel Service (Taiwan) Limited had once been the Department of Travel as established by The Shanghai Commercial and Savings Bank in 1923, and it was renamed China Travel Service Limited in 1927 as an independent entity. It was the first travel agency in China and was fully capitalized by the Shanghai Commercial and Savings Bank. In 1929, the travel agent set up its branch office in Hong Kong. Before 1948, it had a total of 80 branches, units, and guest houses in 36 cities all over China and in 1946, it established its branch office in Taipei, which also became Taiwan's first travel agent. In 1949, the communist occupation of the Mainland dealt a severe blow to China Travel Service (CTS). The company ceased its administrative power over all its field offices and hotels in Mainland China and Hong Kong. As CTS operational zone shrank drastically, the company's only two field offices are those in Taipei and Keelung and was re-registered using the name China Travel Service (Taiwan) Limited, as the 1st travel agency in Taiwan, while the Republic of China (Taiwan) government was removed to Taiwan.

Currently, China Travel Service (Taiwan) is still a subsidiary fully capitalized by the Shanghai Commercial and Savings Bank and in addition to the management of inbound and outbound tours, the travel agency has also invested in leisure hotels and has been handling cargo-related business.

As Taiwan 1st travel agent, we commit to provide the most high quality of our tourism products, and must be with ethical and innovative. Meanwhile, we would work together with the industry to share the beauty of Taiwan to our good friends around the world. With us to know Taiwan amazing landscapes, meet our lovely people, and enjoy the unforgettable activities. Make a wish, and see you in Taiwan soon.

Creating a magnificent scene, it stretches more than 81km and rises vertically from the Pacific Ocean, with an average height of over 800m. This section of cliff is composed of gneiss and marble. It has risen straight up on the eastern coast of Taiwan for thousands of years. The route along the Qingshui Cliff is the only coastal road in Taroko National Park. The site of the Qingshui Cliff was designated in 1953 by the Taiwan government as one of the island's “Eight Wonders.”

Taroko National Park:
Taroko National Park is one of Taiwan’s most beautiful sights. Created by the continual rising of the mountains combined with the erosive power of the Liwu River, Taroko Gorge with its tall, almost flat walls are a true marvel to view. Besides the gorge, other attractions include aboriginal settlements, temples, museums, and numerous hiking trails for visitors to experience the true beauty of mountainous Hualien County and eastern Taiwan.

Dulan:
Lushan Tribe perches on Dulan Mountain at the southern end of the Coastal Mountain Range and features the best preserved Ficus-Machilius forest zone in Taiwan. Without fences, buildings and electricity, the tribe is an outdoor forest museum in a rainforest setting as if the scenario of the film Avatar. Banyan trees have adventitious prop roots that develop and extend to the ground. The roots mature, form secondary trunks around the host tree, and will steal its place as it decays away. Because it seems as if banyan trees here can move across the forest, they are also named as the “walking trees.”
